'low-keyed'

Spirit-'week' Attained

With five full days of festivities once again, Homecoming '79 proved to be one of Schurr's most cohesive homecoming efforts, according to Assistant Principal James Pike. Highlighting the week's festivities was the court coronation. Petite Doreen Yoshimi captured the queen's title followed by first-runner-up Leslie Richardson, Reigning as second, third and fourth runners up were Karen Lorenz, Yuri Shimamoto, and Olivia Rico. A lot of effort by Director of Activities Marcia Cohen and the Interclub Council was the key to getting a reinstatement of the five-day spirit week. Last year's activities were curtailed to two days due to an egg-throwing incident that occurred in 1977. "The key to this year's success was a low-keyed spirit build-up with less inter-class rivalry," explained Cohen. This year's program of events showed Monday to be "Information Day" (when the students were informed about the activities of the next four days) Tuesday was "Crazy Hat Day," Wednesday (October 31) was appropriately "Halloween Day," Thursday was "Sixties Day," and Friday, of course, was "Spirit Day."

Also on the week's agenda were float, trash can, and spirit jug competitions as well as early morning building decorating and Friday afternoon booth activities. Taking honors in the three competitions were the Class of 1980 and Interact Club. The seniors captured both the float and the spirit jug competitions. Their float "Blast the Panthers" was their third consecutive winning entry and was termed "their best float ever" by U.S.B. advisor Malcolm Lincoln. Interact Club came away with the sharpest-looking trash can during the contest that was held during both lunches on Thursday.

Laying out the foundations for the week's festivities were Cohen and the Interclub Council; Cohen herself chaired the "Spirit Day" committee, with Harvey Cohen in charge of spirit week, Michele Marquez heading the float committee, and Jeff Murakami taking care of booths and trash can painting.

Coaches Survive

Donkey Basketball has dazzled audiences for the past eight years as Spartans have watched the hilarious bout between coaches and the Varsity Club.

Introduced with humorous nicknames, the coaches were prepared to defend their title against the vengeful students. "Tennis Racket Sewell" retrieved most of the rebounds and passed off to "Terrible Terry" and "Muscle-Head Marentes" for layups and bank shots.

Varsity Club's key rebound man, John Berru, was plagued by his renegade donkey, "Marilyn" while his mentors used his predicament to their advantage in building an apparently insurmountable 16-point lead.

Making an aggressive come-back in the second stanza, the undaunted students used determined efforts to catch up to their adversaries. But with only five minutes left in the game, Varsity Club members and their supporters alike became frantic as the coaches extended their advantage to three field goals. But dexterous Robert Ekholdt came up with two consecutive baskets to narrow the lead.

Despondency overcame the students as Ekholdt missed the "last-chance" basket with 15-seconds left. But renewed hope was found when the Varsity Club secured the rebound and was awarded two points due to a foul at the buzzer.

The resulting "sudden death" playoff proved the faculty's superiority. With a final lay-up by "Limp Leg Negrete," the coaches came out on top, 42-20.

'variety of music'

A Fright's Delight

Awakening just four nights before Halloween, hoards of animated ghosts, goblins, and ghouls flocked to the small gym to partake in the annual Halloween Dance.

Sponsored for the second successive year by the Schurr Choir, the event was engineered by David A. Lebow, choir director, and choralists Donna Ekholdt, Celia Hammel and Mark Flores.

Hidden inside the grotesquely decorated gym was a student-created haunted house, in which, for the price of a quarter, one was entitled to a series of frights. The ingenious house of horrors was the result of 14-days of labor by a select group of artistic vocalists.

Highlighting the night was the coronation of Mr. and Mrs. Halloween, junior Steve Mosqueda and freshman Missy Saldana. The selection of the ghastly couple was based on the amount of money each candidate collected during the previous week.

"The variety of music is what made the Halloween Dance a great success," commented Donna Ekholdt. Providing the sounds for the night was a traveling disc jockey known as "Disco One."

'better than Montebello'

Canale Canned

Surpassing this year's goal of 5,500 cans by nearly four thousand, the Interact/ Class of '83 co-sponsored canned food drive displayed the overwhelming generosity and benevolence of Spartans.

With Harry Manos' front running Math Analysis class leading the way with 5,404 cans, this year's drive shattered the record set last Christmas.

Capturing second place behind Manos was Charles Canale's California Law class with 2,521 cans amassed. Larry Anisman's Math Analysis class pulled in third place with 312. Giving incentive for the homerooms was a $50-$30-$20 prize set up donated by the U.S.B.

Despite the apparent success of the drive, Interact president Mark Mercado felt distressed. "Looking at how many cans were brought in, I should be very happy, but I'm sorry more homerooms didn't participate. I was also disappointed to see some C-rations and six packs come in because of the heat of the competition. But heck, we still did very well, ten times better than Montebello does," contributed Mercado.

'scenery of the highlands'

Brigadoon Surfaces at Schurr

In its yearly winter production, the Department of Performing Arts brought alive the fantasy land of "Brigadoon." Members of Schurr's choir portrayed the characters in Lerner and Loewe's play about a mystic town that appears only once every 100 years.

The setting takes place deep in the Scottish Highlands where two American hunters, Tommy Albright and Jeff Douglas, (portrayed by Nick Atkins and Mark Flores) stumble upon the mystical town of Brigadoon. Tommy immediately is attracted to a beautiful inhabitant, Fiona MacLaren (played by Laurie Baefsky).

Curious about the strange town they've discovered, Tommy and Jeff go to the town mayor, Mr. Lundie, (played by Don Helland) for the history of Brigadoon. They learn that a miracle occurred 200 years ago that saved Brigadoon from being destroyed. They also learn that anyone could stay if they desired but if a citizen of Brigadoon left he would break the enchantment and Brigadoon would disappear forever.

With nightfall and the disappearance of Brigadoon for another 100 years, Tommy leaves his love Fiona behind and goes back to New York. But four months later in a New York bar, he finally realizes he can't live without Fiona and travels back to Scotland in the desperate chance he might find Brigadoon once again. In the end, he does find Brigadoon and Mr. Lundie explains it was the power of his love that awakened the slumbering town.

Other performances by the Spartan cast were given by Leticia Nieves as the brazen Meg Brookie, Mary Romaniuk as Jean MacLaren, Mark Mercado as Charlie Dalrymple, and Jorge Jatib playing the tragic Harry Beaton who almost causes the end of Brigadoon. Also starring in the play were Gina Lugo, Steve Mosqueda, Ed Hummel, John Kim, Donna Ekholdt, and Rosa Diaz.

The colorful scenery of the Highlands was reconstructed by alumni Martin Negrete and the Stage Crew. The Scottish dances were choreographed by Tom Cicero. Producing and directing the production was David A. Lebow.

'spectacular overall effort'

Senior Cagers 'Break-Away'

Resuming a tradition that was dormant for a one-year haitus, the Class of '80 and the Class of '81 cabinets brought the perennial Junior/Senior Basketball Game back to life.

Played in the middle of February, the contest pitted seniors and juniors who hadn't played for any Schurr basketball squad against each other. The only other restriction on the teams was that each squad had to play one member of the "fairer sex" at all times.

From the start, the contest was nip-and-tuck. At the end of the first 8-minute stanza, the teams were knotted at seven points a piece. The second period produced tighter defenses and missed scoring opportunities. At half-time, the score was 13-12 in the seniors' favor.

Throughout the third quarter and the start of the fourth, the teams waged a momentous struggle. Finally, after being tied at 21, the seniors, behind a fast-breaking Alan Ige, began to pull away. Sporting leads of as many as ten points at times, the seniors never looked back. In fact, with less than a minute left in the game, senior coaches Jeff Murakami and James Cho pulled a daring stunt by sending four girls in at the same time. The move proved inconsequential as the seniors emerged as 36-28 victors.

Leading the senior effort were Ige, Gary Yamamoto, and Laurie Baefsky. Fueling the junior attack were John Itamura, David Okawa, and Leslie Honda.

"It was a spectacular overall effort by the team. We had a lot of people and we managed to give everybody their chance to star on the court. Our defense became impenetrable in the final quarter and our transition game picked up at the same time", stated '80 coach Murakami.

'inspired by manias'

Rock 'N Rollers

Inspired by "the recent roller skating and dancing manias," as Skance coordinator Yuri Shimamoto stated, the Class of '80 cabinet united both fads, resulting in the formation of Schurr's very first skance, held at the Great Skate in Monterey Park.

The first half of the four-hour affair was a two-hour block of continuous skating followed by the roller rink's transformation into a large discotheque, complete with mirror balls and a D.J. An assorted variety of music, including disco, rock, and 'new wave', gave a beat to the skating and dancing.

Proceeds from the Skance went to finance the senior gift which the cabinet presented to Schurr late in the school year.

"something special"

Wishes Come True

Christmas isn't Christmas without the Christmas Ball, and for the seventh straight year, the Girls' League made the ball a reality.

Featuring music by "The Mob," and themed "Wishing on a Star" (after a song performed by the group "Rose Royce,") the winter extravaganza was the result of "the effort the officers put into it," according to Secretary Darlene Quintanar.

Making Maria Aleman's dreams come true was her crowning as Christmas Ball queen. Girls' League president Liz Pedroza served as senior princess; Francel Caracol and Sylvia Aleman were honored as junior and sophomore princesses respectively.

Chairing the dance committees that were so vital to the ball's success were: Grace De La Cerda, refreshments; Sharon Nagahama, decorations; and Carol Mochizuki, hostesses.

"The dance was a success. Our goal was to make it something special and we did," was President Pedroza's critique of the Girls' League's biggest endeavor.

"because of Hawaiian popularity"

Mainlanders Go Tropical

Along with sponsoring other dances like the Christmas Ball and Sadie Hawkins, Girls League created another major production this year: the Hawaiian Dance. "The selection of a Hawaiian theme was because of the current trend of Hawaiian popularity," explained Girls League president Liz Pedroza.

Held in March, the dance required Hawaiian attire such as decorative Hawaiian print shirts for guys, and mumus for girls. To top off their apparel, leis were sold for $1.50. Refreshments served included punch, cookies, and nuts.

With the help of Schurr's production design artists, the dance held an authentic Hawaiian atmosphere with tropical scenery, fish nets, and blazing tiki torches. Students were able to make the night even more memorable by having their pictures taken by alumni Gigi Mui in front of island palm trees and a Hawaiian sunset.

Climaxing the dance was the naming of "Big Kahuna" and "Princess Pupule," the couple who collected the most money during the previous week. The female contestants had to be members of Girls League, with one chosen from each grade. Each girl was then allowed to select a male counterpart of her own preference.

'worthwhile endeavor'

Bands Battle for Charity

Good samaritan Spartans of all grades made a cooperative effort to raise money for the March of Dimes Foundation by supporting the third-annual U.S.B. sponsored March of Dimes benefit. The funds went toward the rehabilitation of handicapped children.

A dance contest and a special "Battle of the Bands" competition stood out as the outstanding features of the March of Dimes Dance. Bestowing $50 and trophies upon the top dance couple was Marcia Cohen, Director of Student Activities.

Music filled the gym as three rock bands; "The Warriors," "Cold Duck," "The Black Birds," and a company of disc jockeys called "Spud Boy," kept everyone on the floor around the clock.

During the second week of March, student volunteers collected donations around campus; the boy and girl team with the most accumulated money were given the titles of "Mr. and Mrs. March of Dimes." The can collections were important, both as an asset within the overall contribution and as a contest motivator. The top two collectors were given a prize of two concert tickets each. Along with the prize winners, the poster child and representatives from the March of Dimes Foundation were announced at the pep rally held March 14.

"Raising money for a charitable cause and being able to have fun doing it, made the March of Dimes Dance a worthwhile endeavor," remarked Cohen.

'A touch of the great outdoors'

Scholars Rough It

Adding a touch of the great outdoors to the school year, the 5th annual excursion to Yosemite National Park drew forty-one enthusiastic Spartans, ready to rough it in the vast wilderness.

The students resided in dorms and lodge cabins at Crane Flat. Their funfilled week included many hikes around the park in which they observed the rustic environment. More adventurous students took to cross country skiing across snow laden plateaus.

Writing was considered a mandatory assignment for the outdoorsmen. Through their journals, poems, and stories based on observations and experiences, the students will long remember their adventure to Yosemite.

Engineered by M.G.M. coordinator Clark Barrett, the nature lovers paid $150 for the excursion that was part of the Mentally Gifted Minors program. Chaperoning the expedition to Yosemite were Mr. and Mrs. Francis Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Haskins, and Ms. Jean Jeffers.

'Shedding light'

Spartans' E.S.P. Skills 'Sharp'-ened

Mystifying and amazing Spartan spectators with exciting mesmeric feats of hypnosis, the George Sharp Show came to Schurr for its second annual exhibition. Shedding light on the subject of extrasensory perception and hypnosis, the renown hypnotist George Sharp explained how most people have had an experience in E.S.P. at one time or another.

Mr. Sharp then proceeded to captivate the audience with a little mind reading. One such entertaining thought that was accurately derived came from junior David Ceja, who envisioned Mr. Lincoln with a full head of hair.

Fearless Spartan volunteers fell into a deep sleep induced by a "spiral" and suggestions to their subconscious. They first toured their favorite amusement parks, the highlight of the excursion being an awesome ride on Magic Mountain's "Colossus."

Finding themselves back in kindergarten, the enchanted subjects were engrossed in finger painting, riding tricycles, sucking thumbs, and teaching "Ken" and "Barbie" dolls how to kiss.

Songs, dances, and wild acts were all a part of the make-believe "Gong Show." The program brought out talents such as: Hilda Lomeli doing a nifty tap dance, the 'cuchi-cuchi' girl herself, Helen Sanchez, demonstrating her impression of Charo and Joey Jordan dancing and swirling to "Rock With You" a la Michael Jackson.

Then, participants became graceful dance instructors, pulling people out of the audience to teach them how to waltz, rock, and disco. Finally, the two-hour show wound up when love-starved students pervaded the stands searching for acceptance among total strangers.

'Country and Disco Connection'

Dog Patch Doin's

Decked out in blue jeans, overalls, and other country-western style clothes, Spartans made their way into the big gym for the 7th-annual Sadie Hawkins Dance. Held in April, the Girls League—sponsored dance transformed city-oriented students into down-home countryfolk.

With the cooperation of Production Design, the gym became a reconstructed Dog Patch, home of country lovers Lil Abner and Daisy Mae. Boothes of various clubs surrounded the gym, selling everything from soft drinks to penciled-on freckles. Keeping with the theme of the dance, Girls League sold corsages and boutonieres of radishes and baby carrots. In addition to that, a justice of the peace hitched willing couples, a coop was provided for Spartan jailbirds, and a hay ride was enjoyed by romanticists.

The crowded dance floor proved that country and disco go well together. Playing disco and new wave music was a disc jockey from the KIIS F.M. Boogie Company.

Receiving the titles of Daisy Mae and Lil Abner was the top cash collector team of the previous week. A Girls League member and a boy counterpart were selected from each class as candidates. Money received went toward Girls League Scholarship Fund.

Photo keepsakes of the country jamboree night were made possible for friends and couples by alumni photographer Gigi Mui.

The elegance of the Los Angeles Hilton set the mood for "endless memories" of the 1980 Junior/Senior Prom.

As each couple made their dramatic entrance into the Pacific and Sierra Ballrooms, they were dazzled by sparkling chandeliers, glowing candelabras, and the delicate scent of fresh roses that adorned each table.

Another memorable aspect of the prom was the fusion of rock and disco; couples danced to the rock music of "Heaven" alternated with the music of "Time Machine." Making the night even more special were the added extras of the unlimited coke bar and a choice of romantic backgrounds for cherished pictures.

Formed the previous year with Donna Ekholdt as chairperson and Chris DeAnde as assistant, the prom committee "organized itself early," according to DeAnde. Among the time-consuming tasks were fundraisers like bake sales, car washes, and raffles. Adding their expertise were Finance Director Malcolm Lincoln, and class advisors Gary Anderson and Kris Moore.

Sports

One game short of taking the Mission Valley League crown for the third consecutive year, the Schurr varsity squad, nevertheless, went on to play in the semifinals of the C.I.F. Southeastern Conference.

Discarding its pass-oriented tactics of the previous year, the Spartans took a close (20-13) against their first foe, Pioneer High, thanks to the efforts of Louie Galicia, Schurr's speedy junior halfback who ran for a total of 89 yards and scored two of the Spartan's three touchdowns. The following week, the Spartans went on to humiliate Glenn High School by routing the Eagles, 43 to 0 and allowing only two completions while picking off three of the Eagles' errant throws.

The tables turned on the Spartans when, in their third contest, a confident squad squared off against the undefeated and unscored-upon Bell Gardens Lancers. The result of the crosstown meeting was a 31 to 13 up-ending of the Spartans.

"We broke down and gave the ballgame away," was all senior quarterback Israel Rosales could say after their first defeat. (Schurr did achieve something by scoring on the Lancers, as one Lancer player lamented, ". . . those guys messed up our record.")

The previous week's traumatic loss wasn't reflected in their next confrontation, however, as the shotgun arm of Rosales threw for a total of 211 yards and two touchdown passes during the Workman conquest (19-0). The Spartans needed to take to the air to insure a victory, for the backs averaged only three yards a carry against a stiff Workman rush defense.

Then, with a 3-1 record tallied, the gridmen entered the '79 M.V.L. season like a wave of marines, crushing the Mark Keppel Aztecs in a 14-3 victory. Next to fall in the path of the Spartans were the unfortunate Arroyo Knights whose armor failed to shine as the Schurr team reproduced its Glenn strategy by giving the Knights both barrels: an air and land attack. It started with a four-yard plunge by Galicia for six with placekicker Carlos Aguilar booting in the extra point. With only seconds left in the first quarter, senior Morgan Juarez grabbed hold of a 36-yard touchdown aerial from Rosales. Putting the final touches on the first half action, Galicia then dove for another six-points with Aguilar putting another PAT through the posts. In the third stanza, the gridmen scored on a 36-yard completion from Rosales to All-League back Derek Sill. Rosales, quarterbacking his second year, enjoyed a 232-yard game, but the night belonged to Galicia who rambled 90 yards to score his third touchdown. The final touchdown was a one-yard run from senior Charlie Lee with Juarez running in the conversion for two points. The downtroddened Knights managed to steal a measly 33 yards from a miserly Schurr defense.

The Rosemead Panthers followed suit with Arroyo, and suffered a 42-12 ransacking at the hands of the Spartan gridmen during Schurr's Homecoming. Once again it was a combined air-land attack. As usual, Rosales threw an excellent game by compiling 219 yards against a flimsy Panther secondary. Supplying the impetus for the Spartan ground game was senior halfback Derek Sill who covered 132 yards of enemy territory; the elusive number 20 also caught a 50-yarder from Rosales. After three rounds, the Spartans were unbeaten and tied for first in the M.V.L.

In a first-place battle, the Spartans received fatal wounds from the El Monte Lions. Even though a special defense was set up to combat the swift advancement of the Lions' offense, the Spartans failed to contain El Monte's passing tandem of Omana-to-receiver-McNeil. "We just weren't hitting that night," reasoned nose guard Mark Olivas. Despite the loss, Sill ran for a cool 105 and Rosales threw for a total of 129 yards.

Undaunted, the Schurr team routed the Mountain View Vikings (54-0) in their last league contest. The win secured second place for the Spartans and gave them a 4-1 record. The Spartans, with a 7-2 overall record under their belts, exploded into the C.I.F. scene by knocking Serra off the competition ladder with a narrow 28-21 victory. Schurr and Serra struggled to a 21-21 tie with less than a minute left in the game. Then, with 41 ticks left on the clock, Derek Sill dove from two yards out into the end zone for the winning touchdown.

Baldwin Park was next on Schurr's playoff agenda. Coach Ken Davis took to the air with Rosales connecting on 16 out of 34 attempts for an average of 14 yards a pass. One of these was an 81-yard bomb to tightend Sam Ceja. The game developed into another cliffhanger as, with only 23 seconds left, Louie Galicia scored to break a 7-7 deadlock. Aguilar's conversion made the final score 14-7 and put Schurr into the C.I.F. semi-finals for the first time in its eight-year history.

It all finally ended in a close, tight-fisted, third-round battle with the Royal Oak Romans who overwhelmed the Spartans with twenty points in the first half. The Spartans' only tally in the half was a three-yard touchdown reception by tight end Ceja. Schurr made a valiant comeback by shutting out the Romans in the second half while scoring a touchdown to narrow the gap to six points. Alas, the Spartans' final, last minute drive ended as the Royal Oak secondary picked off a fourth-down Rosales pass from the Roman 12-yard line. Thus, Schurr's highest achieving season fell short by a dozen yards.

Defense Is Key

Sporting a 2-3 pre-season record, the Sophomore Football Team, under the tutelage of coaches Steve Wright, Jim Benes, and Ron Pruitt, brazenly confronted the Mission Valley League only to repeat their pre-season performance with a 2-3 M.V.L. scorecard and a third place finish.

Despite their lackluster finish, Coach Benes felt that the team had a "fantastic" season because, " . . . a lot of guys showed effort and improvement. We got to play everybody." Benes pointed to the soph's rushing defense as the gridders' most outstanding element. Leading the defensive charge were linebackers Roger Ito and Pete Montoya. Field-generaling the offense was Sergio Torres at quarterback.

Double Trouble For M.V.L. Foes

Aggressive defensive play and a double-edged offensive attack spurred the Freshmen Football Team, under second-year coach Bruce Vlink, and assistant Mando Marentes, to a 7-2 overall record (4-1 in league) and a second place finish in the Mission Valley League.

Providing the backbone for the Spartan defense, which allowed only 34 points, were linebackers Roger Iryo, Tony Madrid, and defensive back Oscar Nunez. On offense, the Schurr gridmen were under the direction of quarterback Secundino Saavedra. Performing at his peak in the homecoming game, Saavedra completed 8 of 9 passes for 756 yards during a 13-0 throttle of Rosemead. Producing a potent ground attack were running backs Harold Duffy and Rene Aguilar (the squad's leading rusher at 860 yards).

Failing To Achieve

Beginning the season with confidence the Girls' Varsity Volleyball Team finished a "disappointing third" in league with a record of 7 wins and 3 losses. "The team and I thought that we would come in first in league, but we lost games that we should have won," commented coach David Hokyo.

The Spartanettes did manage to earn a C.I.F. playoff berth. However, in the first round against Redondo Beach, the spikers bowed out in two straight games.

Returning for the second year in a row, senior Cindy Jensen, "an all around good player," made first team all league, while Sandy Galvan and Edith Duffy made the second team.

"On the whole we ended up not being a losing team. It was important to win, but it was also important to enjoy playing; we had a lot of fun," stated Coach Hokyo.

"Ace"-ing the M.V.L.

"Excellent" was the word Varsity Tennis Coach Glenn Sewell used to describe the Spartanettes and their season. "Excellent" because the team went undefeated through league play and advanced to the first round of the C.I.F. playoffs.

Though the racketeers suffered through a mediocre 2-4-pre-season, the team bounced right back to prevail over their Mission Valley League foes, while compiling a spotless 10-0 record. Entering the first round of the C.I.F. playoffs, the netters were nipped by Hart High School. The Spartanettes battled to a 9-9 tie in sets, but lost 80-78 in games. As Coach Sewell phrased the situation, "We were barely beat!"

Top honors were given to three of the netters this season: Co-M.V.P. honors were given to the doubles team of juniors Lisa Okazaki and Nancy Toy. The Coach's Trophy was awarded to number one singles player senior Kim Jacoby.

J.V.'s Comeback

Hustling into second place, the J.V. Volleyball team racked up a 7-3 Mission Valley League record. Under the tutelage of Head Coach Irene Fasnacht, the volleyers placed second behind a strong Arroyo squad. Highlighting the Spartanettes' season was their last match against Mountain View; played on the Viking's home court, the match displayed the volleyers' poise and will to win. After losing the first game, the Spartanettes stumbled to a 0-11 deficit in the second game before roaring back to tie and win the match. Carried by this momentum, the spikers swept through the final contest 15-4, to win the best-of-three match.

"One characteristic of the team was that they would come from behind no matter how far behind they were. They would come back and win, which proves that they can really get it together and they never quit," Coach Fasnacht confirmed.

Leading the spikers through their heavy schedule, was M.V.P. Noreen Izuo.

Rallying Behind a Rookie

Under the tutelage of rookie coach Sylvia Guerrero, the young, untested Girls' J.V. Tennis Team came through and aced all their Mission Valley League foes, save the Rosemead Panthers. By splitting their two matches with the Panthers, the jayvees managed to attain a share of the league crown.

Losing to Rosemead in the third week of the season, the netters roared back in the seventh week to even their season series with Rosemead by defeating the Panthers, thus tying them for the league title.

The Spartanettes' near-perfect nine-and-one scorecard gave Coach Guerrero cause to comment, "The girls were all really good to work with, and I think that they should be highly recognized for this. As a result, they proved that they were worth the title 'champ.'"

For their outstanding effort throughout M.V.L. competition, Sophi Lim and Holly Masui were co-awarded the title Most Valuable Player as the jayvees' number one doubles tandem.

Ups and Downs

Placing third in the Mission Valley League, the Boys' Varsity Cross Country team barely sneaked into the C.I.F. preliminaries. Led by senior Diego Mesa, who placed fourth in the M.V.L., tenth place finisher senior Angel Muro, and sophomore Victor Muro, the harriers survived league play with a strong 3-2 record. At the C.I.F. play-offs, Schurr finished sixth among twelve competing teams, failing to qualify for a second round.

Veteran mentor Steve Terry captioned the season with "It was a successful year. Possibly one of the best we've had, but the rest of the league was very strong as well."

For the girls it was a victorious year but Rosemead's narrow one point win over them cost the Spartanettes first place in the M.V.L. Leading the girls to a very strong second with a 1-1 league record were junior Letty Ponce and senior Filomena Castillo, who placed third and fourth in the league, respectively. Coach Steve Terry asserted that "It was one of the best girls' cross country teams that we've formed but many in the league couldn't field a team," as there were only three competing teams.

Promotion Hobbles Harriers

Crowning their season with an outstanding 6-3 overall record, the Junior Varsity Cross Country Team took second place in the Mission Valley League with a 1-1 record. Coach Steve Terry described the J.V. harriers as "a relatively strong team. Unfortunately, there weren't many league teams." Notable among the trekkers were Art Avila, Sergio Rubalcava, and Victor Noda, who placed 6th, 7th, and 9th, respectively, in the M.V.L.

Breaking out of the gates quickly, the Frosh/Soph Cross Country Team concluded a reputable season with a respectable 5-4 overall scoreboard.

Hindering the harriers early in the season was the promotion of sophomore Victor Muro, the second place finisher in the M.V.L., to the varsity squad. "It (Muro's promotion) weakened the whole season," said mentor Steve Terry. Yet the runners survived this mishap to wind up the league season in third place with a 2-3 record.

Wada Leads M.V.L. on Mat

Placing second in M.V.L. competition, the varsity wrestling squad compiled a 5-1 league record and an overall scorecard of 14-2. Piloting the Spartans was Mike Garcia who turned the team around to be "Schurr's most successful wrestlers".

The varsity grapplers' first big win came over the Basset matmen in which they tallied a 66-6 score. Fueled by the enormous point margin at Basset, the Schurr team took first place at the San Gabriel tourney where they were awarded 12 medals. The Spartans captured 13 more first-place medals at the El Rancho Invitational.

Junior Tom Wada proved to be the dominant force at the league finals. The 98-lb. grappler finished first in his weight category competition and tallied a 26-1 individual record.

Placing second in the finals were juniors Charlie Cajumban (106 lbs.) who played with an injured ankle throughout the season, and James Estrella (115 lbs.) who, like Wada, sported 26 wins.

Balance Buoys Cagers in M.V.L. and C.I.F.

"Finding the right formula" was the key to the overwhelming success of the Varsity Basketball Team, according to Head Coach Tom Thompson. With a little experimenting in the pre-season, the Spartan mentor conjured up a formula that propelled the Schurr cagers through a perfect 10-0 conquest of the Mission Valley League.

Balanced scoring and team defense proved to be the key ingredients in Thompson's championship recipe. "We played like a 'team' both on offense and defense," explained forward Sam Ceja.

On the attack, four out of the starting five cagers averaged in double figures. Junior Rick Ronquillo and senior Fred Cumberland led with 14 pts. per game contributions. Next followed small forward Charlie Lee with twelve, and power forward Sam Ceja who poured in eleven points a game. The fifth starter, point guard Jay Kim, led the team in assists, dishing off seven a game.

"Team defense was definitely our strongest aspect," pointed out Thompson. Capturing special praise from his mentor was senior Charlie Lee. "Being the leader on the court, Charlie took charge defensively. He always played the 'shooter' (the opposition's main scorer) well for us."

Finding their pre-season schedule the "best and toughest" ever, Thompson and Assistant Coach Roger Lowrey engineered the cagers to the finals in the Alhambra Tourney before bowing out to the Moors. The Spartans also placed third in their own Christmas tournament. Two of the Schurr squad's losses came to Blair and San Marino. Blair, the top-ranked C.I.F. 2-A team at the end of the season and victors over 4-A pow-San Marino. Blair, the top-ranked C.I.F. 2-A team at the end of the season and victors over 4-A powerhouse Verdum Dei, upended the Spartans by twelve. San Marino, the sixth ranked 2-A team, defeated the Schurr cagers 57-48. By the end of pre-season action however, the Schurr formula began to brew. "The turning point in our season came in the week before league play when we defeated San Gabriel and West Covina; both were extremely strong teams," surmised Thompson.

Proving that they were indeed beginning to gel, the cagers proceeded to rip the M.V.L. competition apart. Felling opponents right and left, the Spartans piled up ten straight league victories. This, added to three wins recorded in the pre-season, gave the cagers thirteen consecutive victories at the end of M.V.L. play, by far the longest streak for a Schurr team. Supporting Schurr's claim to M.V.L. dominance was the fact that no league foe scored more than 55 points on the Schurr squad. The Spartans averaged 65 points per game while allowing only 47 points to their opponents.

Attaining honors in the All-League balloting were four of the cagers. Donning the "Most Valuable Player" title for the league was 6'3" senior Fred Cumberland. First team qualifiers were Rick Ronquillo and Charlie Lee. Six-foot three-inch power forward Sam Ceja represented Schurr on the second team.

Advancing to the C.I.F. play-offs for the third consecutive year, 10th ranked Schurr faced Glenn High School. In the first round, Glenn, third-place finishers in the Suburban League, gave the Spartans more than they could handle in the first quarter. As a result, the hot-shooting, high-flying Eagles sported a 14-8 lead at the quarter's end. Behind the gunning of guard Rick Ronquillo, the cagers fought back to achieve a one-point halftime advantage.

Maintaining their lead throughout the third stanza, the Spartans entered the final period ahead 44-39. With a little more than half the quarter remaining, the Eagles pulled to within four. Rising to meet the challenge, senior Sam Ceja poured in three straight hoops to extinguish Glenn's surge. Schurr went on to a 60-52 victory, the first C.I.F. victory ever for a Schurr basketball team.

Ceja, held to just to one basket in the first half, finished with fifteen points to buoy the Spartans. Ronquillo led the Spartans with 17 points.

Advancing to the second-round to confront the Indio Rajahs, the Spartan cagers traveled to Palm Springs High School.

From the start, the game was played close and physical. Senior forward Charlie Lee's outside shooting in the first stanza gave the Spartans a 21-13 lead.

The Spartan lead dwindled down to five at the half. Throughout the third and fourth periods, the cager lead ballooned and deflated. With less than a minute to go in the contest, the Schurr lead had evaporated completely, leaving the Spartans and Rajahs knotted at 57. The Schurr cagers then worked the ball around looking for a crack in the Rajah zone. Suddenly, with 21 ticks on the clock, the Spartans fed the ball to 6'3" Fred Cumberland. The Rajah defense collapsed on the Schurr center who then dished the ball off San Ceja who drove down an open baseline for two. Indio's last offensive series ended in three missed chances from inside ten-feet.

Balanced scoring again helped the Spartans prevail. High scorer was Ceja with 15; Cumberland and Lee followed with 14 apiece.

"This was the best varsity defensive team Schurr's basketball program has ever sported. Our defense was predicated on a 'help weakside' plan. This, plus the fact that Cumberland more or less owned the key, contributed greatly to our success."

J.V. Matmen Pin M.V.L.

Riddled with inexperience, the Junior Varsity Wrestling team, which grew from a nine-man squad of last year, to a 25-man team, took the Mission Valley League Championship with a 7-0 league record.

Presenting the grapplers with the fiercest competition were the Rosemead Panthers, but the former league champs could not pin the indomitable Schurr squad.

Helping the matmen take the league title were co-M.V.P.'s Alex Rodriguez (142 lbs.) and Tury Bracamontes (123 lbs.)

"Inconsistent" was the term jayvee coach David Hokyo used to call their season as the Junior Varsity Basketball team placed third in league behind El Monte and Arroyo.

Carrying the offensive load for the jayvee cagers, Carl Linzer earned his M.V.P. title by scoring an average of 19 points a game. The junior center, along with guards, Todd Uyeda and Dewey Hall, led the junior varsity squad to compile a 6-4 league record and a 12-9 overall scorecard.

Sophs Breeze as Frosh Win Title

Racking up a league scorecard of 8-2 and compiling an overall record of 19-3, the Sophomore Basketball Team captured second place in Mission Valley League competition behind the Arroyo Knights.

Maneuvering under coach Julian Olague, the soph cagers breezed through their season largely because of, as Olague phrased it, "team effort".

Much of the team's success rested on the shoulders of captain Glenn Morimoto. The soph guard was also voted M.V.P. by his teammates. Leading the squad in points, however, was forward Eric Tashima who averaged 10-points a game and enjoyed a 24-point outing.

It was pure "devastation" when M.V.P. Larry Goncherenko and Eddie Hummel got together on the court as the two six-footers led the Freshman Basketball Team to the prized M.V.L. title.

With 8 wins and 2 losses on the season, the frosh cagers fought their most exciting contests against the Arroyo Knights. The Knights beat the Schurr squad by one-point in their first league confrontation. The Spartans, however, turned the tables on Arroyo in their second meeting and overcame them by a 7-point margin.

Commented coach John Francen, "They were good and scrappy!"

Talented Field on Track

With "a lot better individual talent," according to Head Coach Bruce Vlink, the Boys' Varsity Track Team combated an experienced Arroyo Knight squad for the league championship.

Eight returning lettermen gave the Spartans enough experience to down Brea, their first opponent, by 31 points. Then, at Downey, the tracksters came away with 51 medals.

Benefiting from a new jump coach, Art Luna, the field events contributed to the teams' success. "The marks were very impressive," Vlink said. In the running events, Schurr was boosted by soph Jerry Sepulveda.

Balanced Girls Avoid Fall

"A very well-balanced team," was Coach Steve Terry's description of the Girls' Varsity Track Team. Schurr did indeed field a well-rounded squad, as was evident in the Spartanettes' performance in each of the various events.

Pulling double duty as the Schurr's top discus and shot putter, was sophomore Michelle McDaniel. Fleet footed Ann Stradler led the Spartanettes in the sprints; senior Filamena Castillo paced the Schurr squad as the team's top distance competitor. Third-year letterman Cindy Jensen gave the Spartanettes a boost in the long, high, and triple jump.

Undaunted by Dampness

Rain may have dampened the Schurr track, but not the Frosh/Soph Track Team's spirit. With diligence and dedication, the squad practiced around the dry crevices of "C" building and in the big gym. This inconvenience failed to diminish their performance, as the tracksters fiercely battled Arroyo and El Monte for the Mission Valley League crown.

Out in front, Glenn Morimoto led the Schurr squad in both the long jump and sprinting events. Backing the young sophomore in those same events were Jack Thongpricha, Roger Garcia, and Eric Tashima. Humberto Gonzales skied to higher limits in the pole vault with Spartan trekkers Mike Bruner, Art Chavez, and Damian Castrellon logging Schurr's top long distance marks.

Seniors 'Single' Out

Handling their preseason competition with little difficulty, the Boys' Varsity Tennis Team burst onto the Mission Valley League scene with a 2-1 pre-league log.

Slicing down two of their first three adversaries, the netters went into their third week of league competition with a 2-1 M.V.L. scorecard.

According to tutor Glenn Sewell, this year's squad was "the strongest team in five years." Supporting Sewell's claim was the sterling performance of the Spartans. Leading the netters in the singles category were seniors Clayton Oyama and Greg Cano; combining their skills, juniors Melvin Quan and David Okawa assumed the number one doubles position followed by the tandem of Jon Takasugi and William Kim.

Top Two Provide Key

Taking the reins from former coach Armando Marentes, rookie Tim Microhand guided the Junior Varsity Tennis Team to a 2-1 scorecard in the first week of Mission Valley League play.

Two players constituted most of the jayvee's winning formula. Juniors David Lee and Ken Jacoby filled the top two positions in relation to importance. The former, Lee, was one of the top doubles players and the latter, Jacoby, occupied the number one singles position.

Full Ladder Displays Depth

Six frosh players contributed heavily to the Freshmen Tennis Team's quick start in M.V.L. competition. The netters, under first year coach Tim Microhand, achieved a 2-0 league scorecard after the first week of play.

The unusual depth allowed Microhand a free hand in setting up the frosh competition ladder. Occupying the top two rungs were singles players Joon Choi and Albert Okubo. The top doubles team consisted of Eddie Okada and Jon Sultzer. Following closely behind were Gregg Lee and Glenn Yamashita in the second doubles position.

"It's been a great experience for me," remarked Microhand, "I love it!"

'Foul Play' Costs Schurr Title

Burdened with a controversial defeat at the hands of M.V.L. champ Rosemead, the Schurr varsity cagerettes were subdued in league competition. Terminating their season with an 8-2 league effort (15-8 overall) the Spartanettes placed second behind the Panthers.

In pre-league confrontations, San Gabriel and Valley Christian gave the cagerettes the fiercest competition. The disciplined San Gabriel team thrashed the Schurr squad 96-33. Against Valley Christian however, the story was different. Even though the Spartanettes were out-sized by their towering adversaries, the Schurr cagerettes triumphed, 52-48.

Surviving their first two league contests with little problem, the Spartanettes were pitted against Rosemead, last year's M.V.L. champs, in the third week. Through the first half events went well for the Schurr squad with the Spartanettes emerging from the first 16 minutes nine points up.

As the second-half resumed, two questionable technicals were handed to Schurr players by the sole official (usually there are two.). Things continued to go ill for the Spartanettes, until, with 18 seconds left in the game and Rosemead up by one, Schurr's misfortune hit rock bottom. The Panthers inbounded the ball and in their attempt to shoot were fouled by two Schurr cagerettes. The official then ruled a "double foul" based on an unprecedented reason of "not knowing who fouled first." As a result, the Rosemead cagerette was awarded three free throws! Coach Steve Terry lodged a protest when the referee refused to rationalize his call. After a heated exchange of words, Terry was evicted. Seconds later, assistant coach Debi Hashiro was thrown out. To top it off, cagerette Lisa Moisa was evicted because of an intentional foul. Eighteen shots from the charity line was what Rosemead gained during the final 18 seconds, assuring them of their eventual 46-39 victory.

"We had a very poor official", was Terry's final opinion of the Spartanettes' "loss".

From there, the Schurr squad went on a three-game winning streak. Then, seven weeks into the season, the cagerettes stumbled over Arroyo 46-49. "We were looking past the Knights to the Rosemead rematch. We took Arroyo too lightly because we beat them by 29 the first time," reasoned Terry.

The following week, the Spartanettes avenged their earlier loss to Rosemead by disposing of the Panthers 64-31. Finishing off the season in high step, the cagerettes rode rough shod over El Monte and Mountain View.

Leading the Spartans in scoring during M.V.L. play was center Cindy Jensen with a 17.8 average. Closely behind her was senior guard Edith Duffey, who contributed 16.1 points a game and 4.1 assists per game. Junior Celeste Mekata filled the nets with 10.4 points per outing. On the boards, Jensen dominated. The lithe, 5'11" center hauled down 18.5 caroms per match. Supporting Jensen were Mekata with 8 and freshman Vickie Sill with 6.6 a game.

Gaining a C.I.F. berth through their second place M.V.L. finish, the cagerettes continued their season against the Mission Viejo Diablos in the first round of the playoffs.

Overcoming the distinct height disadvantage, the Schurr cagerettes' quickness gained them an early advantage that they never relinquished the rest of the game. At quarter's end, the Spartanettes held an 18-3 lead, due mostly to Diablo turnovers being conveyed into Schurr breakaways. The rout continued the rest of the way with the end result being Schurr up by twenty-five, 64-39.

Spearheading the cagerettes' attack was Edith Duffey whose control of the tempo allowed her to score sixteen points. Celeste Mekata added thirteen points, as the junior forward wore the nets out from the outside. Freshman Vickie Sill contributed five hoops to the Schurr conquest.

Sophomores Bolster Jayvees

Playing with "more experience and height," the Girls' Junior Varsity Basketball Team finished their season with a 6-4 record and an 11-5 overall scorecard. This placed them third in Mission Valley League competition.

As in the previous year, Michelle McDaniel led the team in scoring. Following the sophomore power forward in points per game were junior Janice Lew and freshman Karen Yamamoto.

The first place Keppel Aztecs proved to be too much for the Spartanettes; the first time they faced the Aztecs, Schurr lost by an 8-point margin. Their second confrontation proved no different; the Schurr team was again defeated, this time by a score of 34-26.

Despite the discouraging losses to Keppel, second-year coach Cindy Cornejo commented that the cagerettes, "ended the season well. I am very proud of the girls".

Sporting a winless league scorecard after two M.V.L. contests and a 2-4 preseason record, the J.V. Softball Team was plagued with misfortune.

One loss was a forfeit due to a misunderstanding. At Keppel, the squad found the Aztecs absent and left only to be awarded with a loss when Keppel appeared minutes after Schurr's departure.

Despite their unsuccessful start, Coach Cindy Cornejo was optimistic throughout the year. According to the second-year coach, the girls "played consistently well".

Among the notables were catcher Marie Cavazos and freshmen outfielders Lisa Gonzales and Lorie Iwai.

Young Line-up Explodes

Sporting only five seniors on the entire 16-man roster, the Don Hill coached Varsity Baseball Team compiled a 3-3 preseason record before capturing 2 out of their first 3 league decisions.

Pronouncing the Spartans' youth was the fact that two starting positions were held down by sophomores Ralph Marquez (2nd base) and Frank Farfan (right field). Soph Frank Benavides found a spot in the pitching rotation. "I'm proud of the way the younger players fought for starting positions," admired Hill.

With little experience but with loads of optimism, the mittmen entered the 32-team El Segundo Tournament. After the two-week, double elimination tourney ended, the squad had attained sixth place with a 3-2 record. One of Schurr's losses came to defending C.I.F. champion El Segundo. Two wins, however, came over big city schools Jefferson and Inglewood. "I was kind of surprised at the ease with which we beat them," exclaimed Hill. Perhaps the biggest surprise was the Spartans' explosiveness; they unloaded for 22 runs against the two combined.

That same run-scoring machine stalled in their first M.V.L. contest, when the mittmen were shutout 5-0 by Arroyo. Refueled, however, the Schurr bats were at it again in conquests of El Monte (10-2) and Rosemead (10-5).

Lacking experience in number, Hill may have found it in quality. Four of his five seniors, shortstop Carlos Acosta, centerfielder Brian Shubin, third baseman Israel Rosales and left fielder Art Marquez, "had to be considered the best in the league at their positions," according to their coach. The fifth senior, Steve Hirata was a valued southpaw on the pitching staff.

Talent Minus Experience

Lack of consistency and experience proved to be the major obstacles for the Junior Varsity Baseball Team. Piloted by mentor Steve Wright, the jayvee campaign started off to a 2-1 Edge in Mission Valley League play.

Stored in Wright's inexperienced, yet talented, cache was a hoard of sophomore gems. On the mound, Dan DiCesare, Frank Beas, and Mike Ramirez constituted a majority of the pitching staff. At the plate, sophs Andy Nieto, Eddie Martinez, George Munoz, and junior Louie Garcia carried hot bats. Displaying dexterity with the glove were two more 10th graders, catcher Sergio Torres and shortstop Sal Mojica, along with junior second baseman Doug Sato.

Fielding the "best freshman hitting team in three years," according to head coach Casey O'Gorman, the Frosh Baseball Team compiled a 1-1 record at the end of one week of M.V.L. play. Adding the results of their two preleague contests, an 11-0 loss at Whittier and a 6-5 defeat to Bell Gardens, the frosh record dipped to 1-3 overall.

Swinging the big lumber for the Spartans was Rene Aguilar. On top of supplying the frosh mittmen's offensive punch, Aguilar showed prowess behind the plate as the starting catcher. Shortstop Tony Madrid also sparkled on the diamond.

Young Blood Flows on Green

Armed with eight sophomores, seven freshmen, two juniors and one senior, the Spartan Golf Team burst into the putting scene by thrashing their first three preseason rivals.

Consistency was the definite facet in sophomores June Shibasaki and Eddie Fierro's game as they drove the linksmen to victory. Brad Cha who last year led the junior varsity squad, was the only senior returning to competition. Despite the "mush" created by early season precipitation, the youthful Spartans played up to par.

In spite of the "dropping off" of several golfers, Coach Rick Niccoli, still managed to feel that he "liked working with young people."

Arousing the student body with its exhilerating sounds was the Pep Band. Sounding out such melodies as "Sons of Sparta," "Golden Girl," and the theme from Mork and Mindy were familiar during the chilly football season as the musicians stimulated the Spartans' spirits.

Directing the musicians was band President Robert Narumi who was seen out in front conducting during pep rallies and at home basketball games. The group was the cream of Barry Ulrich's crop, which was evident in their showmanship.

"Ragtime" music filled the band room after school, as the Stage band rehearsed. Under the direction of Barry Ulrich, the group competed against other jazz bands at Saddleback College during the month of February for awards. The musicians also engaged in the annual spring concert that was sponsored by the performing arts department. Such melodies as "Jamie," "Just the Way You Are," and "Keep the Change" were played at the concert.

Promoting library use was the purpose behind the two-year-old Friends of the Library. Led by President Leslie Santos and guided by Advisor Theresa Menor, the club participated in many activities throughout the year. During Homecoming, "Pepper Bellies" were sold. "They like to help people," commented Menor. The group proved this when they visited the Rio Hondo Convalescent Home during December, passed out apples and sang Christmas carols.

The ever-popular Hobby Show was sponsored by Friends of the Library. There, students and faculty were able to display their favorite pastimes.

"Hand selected," according to director David Lebow, the 45-member Freshman Choir experienced numerous musical moments.

The choral group participated in two musical programs during the year. The group participated in the Christmas program in which they sang such melodies as "Sleigh Ride" and "Spend This Holiday With Me." They also took part in the Montebello Unified School District Choral Festival which took place in February.

The singers enthusiastically sold scented candles with cheery Yuletide decor in hopes of raising enough money to purchase a new sound system.

Providing tutoring and community service were the top priorities to C.S.F., and interested students had to have at least three A's in order to be eligible to join the club. At the beginning of the year, C.S.F. was 135 members strong but as the year came to an end, they added 37 new members.

To start the year off, the C.S.F.'ers sponsored a soda booth on Spirit Day. They also constructed a float that won them second place in the float contest.

As the year wore on, the scholars peddled candy canes and also went Christmas caroling in the Montebello community.

The C.S.F.'ers attended C.S.F. night at Disneyland for their first outing of the year. For the annual C.S.F. recognition day, the members enjoyed a night of ice skating.

When Interact began, it was intended to be a boys' service club that would work along with "S" Club. Like its sister organization, Interact serves both the school and the community. Schurr's group is sponsored by the Montebello Rotary Club.

President Mark Mercado and Advisor Steve Terry led the Interacters through an extremely festive year. The greatest accomplishment was the canned food drive that helped many of the needy families of the Montebello/Monterey Park area. They also helped plan the 1980 Montebello 10-kilometer race.

To support its activities, Interact sold homecoming balloons and took first place and a $20 check for their trash-can painting entry.

Newly created, Interclub Council replaced the Pep Commission. One representative from each club made up the council, which was organized to create a better understanding between the clubs. The council's biggest task was coordinating both homecomings. The council also kept the events calendar in order and without conflicts.

Serving both the school and the community was "S" Club. Led by President Anabelle Uno and under Stefani Lake's jurisdiction, the prominently female club attempted to service the school throughout the year.

Before holidays, the girls were seen busily distributing treats to the faculty. The club also held a pizza party at the start of the year to let members get better acquainted.

Bake sales, rummage sales, and a cotton candy booth during homecoming were among the many money-makers that helped defray the cost of the club services.

Homecoming '79 highlighted a happening-filled year for the officers and executive council of the united student body. The energetic student leaders, behind president Val Voskresensky, were ever intent on promoting school activities, increasing student involvement, and raising funds.

Reinstating a five-day spirit week was a major accomplishment this year. With a lot of time and effort by Director of Activities Marcia Cohen, the students managed to persuade the administration into giving "spirit week" another chance after "nixing" it last year.

Filling out the U.S.B.'s agenda were the 3rd annual March of Dimes benefit and the perennial 50's Dance.

Administering to U.S.B. matters were officers Val Voskresensky, president; Shari Gong, vice-president; Susie Rodarte, secretary; Dale Uyeda, treasurer; Marcia Cohen, director of activities; Olivia Rico, pep commissioner; and David Ceja, historian. Assisting them was the executive council which included; Michele Marquez, Harvey Cohen, Michelle Kurihara, Leland Weisner, Sergio Torres, Yuri Shimamoto, and Jeff Murakami.

Informing the student body of campus events was the Spartan Scroll. Under the direction of Editor-in-Chief, Sharon Wada, and advised by Ella Wing, the Spartan Scroll journalists published a total of 30 issues during the year.

The journalists competed in two write-offs during the year. On March 1st, the journalists competed in the East Los Angeles Journalism Education Association Write-offs at Bellflower High School. Then they participated in the Southern California Journalism Education Association Write-offs held at Alhambra High School on April 26. "I'd stack them up against professional writers," commented Ella Wing.

"Senior Spotlight" was a new feature in the scroll. "Spotlight" focused on the activities and endeavors of active seniors and revealed the future goals of an honored senior.

At the end of the year, the staff's laborious work was rewarded at their annual banquet held at Luminarias where "Quill and Scroll" pins were awarded to those who had an article published in a local paper.

"Being advisor of a newspaper isn't easy, but their dedication is one of the reasons why I enjoy advising the Scroll," Ella Wing concluded.

Weaving genius and creativity throughout 60 pages, the 20-plus member Oracle Staff produced their 8th-annual publication. Themed "Campus Kaleidoscope" by advisor Merlene Hill, Schurr's literary magazine exhibited the best of Spartan artwork, prose, poetry, and photography.

Plagued by declining sales in recent years, co-editors Louis Dimen and Rosa Diaz pushed for student appeal through entries within the "campus" theme. Submissions trickled in at first, but as soon as Hill urged fellow English instructors to submit classwork, the flow of incoming material became incessant.

Being a service to the student body, the Oracle was peddled for half its printing cost. The resulting financial losses proved inconsequential, as the staff sold Goblin, Holiday, and Goodbye Grams.

Ever expanding can be used to describe the three-year-old Photo Club. The shutterbugs had many excursions to experience photographing objects that are not present in Montebello. Advisor Marvin Inouye accompanied the group to Death Valley, the Queen Mary, and the San Gabriel Mountains.

Inouye surmised, "this year's Photo Club has been the most independent and innovative ever."

During homecoming, the club set up a button booth in which they photographed people and mounted their photos on a button. Another event for the club was the dance they co-sponsored with the Class of '80, a tremendous achievement in which they raised money that was needed to acquire a strobe system.

Aiding the librarians in any way possible was the library staff. The indispensible helpers checked out books to fellow students. The librarian aids also returned books back to their shelves that had been left out or that had just been returned. By doing those tasks the librarian had more time to help students that needed assistance.

Building sets for the performing arts department was Stage Crew. Under the direction of advisor David Lebow, and head crewman Derek Sill, the crew worked after school during the year to furnish sets for "Brigadoon" and "Guys and Dolls". "We do tremendous work," commented head chief Derek Sill.

Spreading Talents Throughout The Community

Training for future careers through the Regional Occupational Program (R.O.P.), Schurr students were rewarded with benefits such as skills in a field of work, school credit, job references, a certificate of completion of their selected course, college scholarships, and job placement.

The 16-class courses in fields such as nursing, banking, and dental assistance were quickly filled with over a hundred eager students. Participants in the program acquired 5 and 10 credits for 180 hours.

The R.O.P. programs was under the reins of Mrs. Gus Seymer, who took charge of all R.O.P.'s in the Montebello Unified School District.

Enhancing the school year, Production Design artists publicized many social and athletic events with brilliant banners and posters.

Ornamenting the library's bulletin board was also part of production design's duties. Artists David Kasai and Hong Lee worked together to design monthly boards. boards.

However the highlight of the year was the spring art show that revealed the works of Schurr's aspiring Michelangelos.

"These students are very creative. What else can I say? . . . It makes my day and it sure makes it worth coming to school," commented advisor Mary Arnold.

Capturing its audiences with graceful and flowing interpretations of beauty was the Dance Company. The thirty-three member troop, consisting of only sophomores and juniors, performed at the P.T.S.A. Founder's Day banquet and at a recital at the end of the year.

Meeting daily during 2nd. lunch in the nurse's office was the Backgammon Club. "A very informal club" according to advisor Fran Jeffers, had no officers but instead treated all members equally.

Gaining experience in the working world, 160 Schurr students were able to earn graduation credits by joining Work Experience. While working an average of ten hours per week, one received five credits per semester and ten credits for an average of twenty hours.

Founded by Malcolm Lincoln, the twelve member Chess Club met every Wednesday after school, in the student lounge to refine their chess genius while competing against each other.

Handling school funds was the Finance Office Staff. Throughout the year the financers made change for those who needed it, cashed checks, and also kept receipts.

Operating the student store was also one of the many responsibilities that were put upon the financers.

"I maintained the same policy of no junk food, no candy bars . . . I feel we are a service to humanity," concluded Lincoln.

On the other hand, teaching students how to maneuver a boat was the purpose behind the Sailing Club. Before the sailors ever had a chance to get their feet wet, they went through a program to learn about water safety.

Although the Long Beach Harbor is not known for its clean environment, the sailors found many moments where they could "breathe clean air."

Comprised of athletes who earned varsity letters, the Varsity Club, combined both enthusiasm and an appetite for fun to pull off three fundraisers.

The sportsmen first sponsored a dunking booth on Spirit Day; in addition, they saddled-up in the hilarious Donkey Basketball game, edged out by the coaches, 42-40. Their final fundraiser, the Sadie Hawkins hay ride, transported contributors around the gym in a hay filled cart.

Campus Life, not confined to Schurr High, is an organization which is represented on most campuses in the United States.

"To get along with your fellow man," was the purpose behind those weekly Campus Life meetings according to sponsor, Larry Jones. The group met during lunch periods in C-103 where open discussions involving the pressures and problems of today's young people took place. Campus Life, despite the fact that bible study was frequently involved, is not primarily a religious group, for the meetings were "open to everybody . . . regardless." Guest speakers vary from interdenominational clergy members to various youth group organizers.

Seventy-five members strong, the ASIA Club strode through its eight years of existence. Under rookie advisor David Hokyo, and behind president Janet Ligh, the club took some new strides this year.

Relations with ASIA clubs from other campuses were stimulated with a dance at the New Otani Hotel in "J-Town" or Little Tokyo during February. The dance was more a social nature than a fundraiser. The club had several money-makers including a pen sale, a bake sale, and a won ton sale for Homecoming.

Contributing immensely to the club's outstanding attendence was the shift in meeting times. "Meetings were a problem. Because of the students who had to take the bus home after school, the meetings were planned during lunch," explained Hokyo.

Expanding their spirit and vitality on campus is just what the Varsity Pepsters did by adding two more girls to each squad. Advisor Cindy Cornejo stated, "Additional pepsters proved beneficial because they added spirit and helped in fundraising."

Attending the Santa Barbara U.S.A. camp in early August, where they learned new techniques and cheers, all of the pepsters won superior ribbons and "Spirit Sticks" for being peppy, spirited and enthusiastic. And at the end of camp, the pepster squad won an "Excellence Trophy."

Perennial fund raisers such as See's suckers and football ribbons were accompanied by Lil' Buddies Stationery and a "Pie in the Eye" contest.

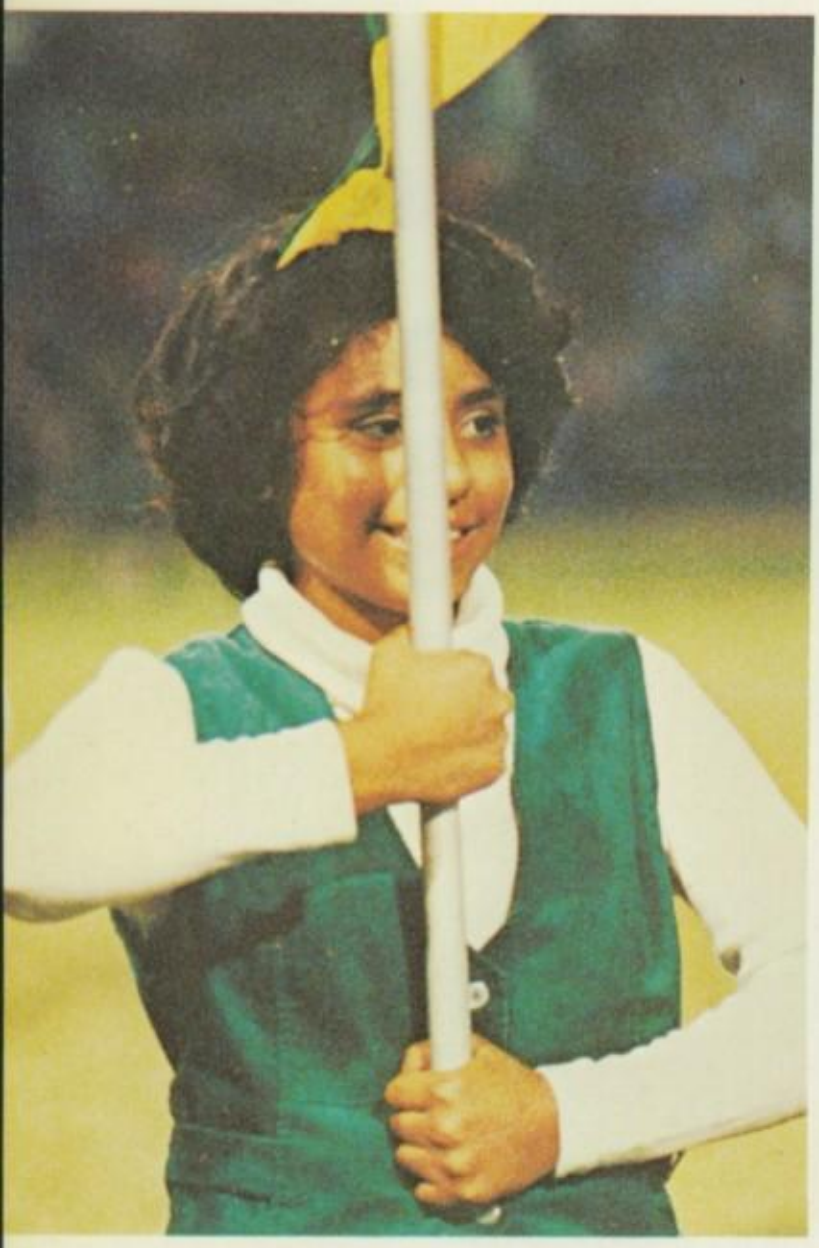
Combining enthusiasm and creativity, the Freshmen, Sophomore, and Junior Varsity Cheerleaders took on the challenge of promoting Spartan spirit at pep rallies and Schurr sporting events. Advised by Cindy Cornejo, the underclass pepsters aroused Spartan crowds with elaborate routines and vociferous cheers.

Comprised of six members, each squad participated in several fundraisers throughout the year. Game ribbons and the popular See's suckers were among the products the pepsters peddled. New on the cheerleaders' showcase this year were "Lil' Buddies" stationery which displayed furry creatures on the enclosures.

Captaining the frosh cheerleaders was Mary Cline. Soph pepsters cheered behind captain Sylvia Aleman, and leading the J.V. squad was junior Leslie Honda.

More Than a Cheer



Marching proudly down the streets and on the field, Drum Major Michelle McRavy led the Spartan band through another award-winning season. Directed by Barry Ulrich and aided by President Robert Narumi, the band attended seven parades from which the Spartans brought home four sweepstake trophies. trophies.

During the course of the year, the band took time out to accept invitations to perform at Magic Mountain and Disneyland. As always, the band added to the festive atmosphere at the two amusement parks.

Among other things, the band also had many fund raisers. They sold pizzas, cheese spreads, holiday fruitcakes, and chocolate Easter eggs.

Highlighted by the Christmas and the Spring Concerts, the A Capella Choir and Vocal Ensemble produced a performance filled year.

Under the direction of David A. Lebow, the A Capella Choir performed various times at Schurr's two feeder schools, Macy and Eastmont. Also under the reins of Lebow, the more select, 20-member Vocal Ensemble sang at numerous spots in the community. Among these performances were excursions to the Taix Restaurant and the Montebello Women's Club.

The music productions for the year were: "Brigadoon" and "Guys and Dolls". Both solid performances contributed to Schurr's growing reputation in the field of performing arts. Building up their financial resources, the choir sponsored a Halloween dance and peddled Christmas candles.

Plagued by inexperience, a large, seventeen-member staff, under adivsor Joy Cimarusti, kept in time with the eighties with several changes.

One of the drastic moves for the Spectrum was a new staff alignment. This year, the editor positions were not administered to the different sections, but rather were assigned to different processes of the book.

"Promoting school spirit is what Girls' League is all about" according to Vice-President Angelica Gomez. Behind President Liz Pedroza, Vice-President Gomez, Treasurer Darlene Quintanar, and Secretary Sharon Nagahama, the girls did just that.

Starting the year off was the successful sale of bright yellow mums for homecoming. The Homecoming float "Mow Down the Panthers," was a scaled-down football field with a panther being mowed down by a Spartan.

The Girls' League also sponsored their 9th annual Christmas Ball, "Wishing on a Star". The girls also put on the ever-popular Sadie Hawkins Dance in April, as well as the colorful Hawaiian Dance.

Thirty-seven high-stepping girls combined their talent and enthusiasm to make the Drill Team season a memorable one. The girls spent four hours two days a week the entire summer, practicing steps and improving their timing. Their efforts were rewarded by capturing first place trophies in the Rosemead and Tristan parades, second in Hawthorne's and third in Chino's parades. The Spartanettes were also invited to display their special routines in Disneyland and at Six Flags Magic Mountain.

Jerseys Bail Out Seniors

Overcoming severe financial difficulties, the Class of 1980, under the three-time president Michele Marquez, succeeded in producing an activity-filled year.

With the immeasurable aid of Vice-president Harvey Cohen, Secretary Michelle Kurihara, the senior cabinet, and the entire task force, Marquez and advisor Garnet Hill managed to surmount a deficit of eleven hundred dollars that resulted from last year's prom. Defraying much of the bill, senior jerseys brought in a net profit of over four-hundred dollars. The highly popular jerseys displayed a "Class of '80" design on the front, patterned after the "Cheap Trick" rock group's logo.

Among the hordes of money-makers the seniors sponsored were: an October car wash, their fourth annual Disneyland trip, and, along with Photo Club, the Ice-breaker dance that featured "Disco Fantasy." On the social side, the 1980'ers had a Christmas caroling party and, later, in June, a banquet to close out their four years at Schurr.

One thing that the Class of '80 accomplished, and that no one will forget, was their dominance of the homecoming float competition. For the third straight year, a Joe Rando—engineered construction took top honors. This year's monstrosity (30 feet long, 8 feet wide, and 16 feet tall) consisted of a Spartanoid working an explosives plunger that sent a CO2 emitting rocket, a panther strapped to it, up a ramp. When the rocket reached the ramp's summit, the cone dropped open and a flock of homecoming balloons ascended out of the rocket. The fully-animated, 12,000-flower float was aptly entitled "Blast of Panthers."

Your most embarrassing experience at Schurr?

"At the Homecoming Dance my date and I were the first ones dancing a slow ballad, but the song was for the queen and her court."

What's senioritis?

"Senioritis is a condition where the victim becomes disillusioned, jaded, and totally void of any hope concerning his/her school life. In terminal senioritis, the student begins to ditch regularly, finding no apparent reason to attend class."

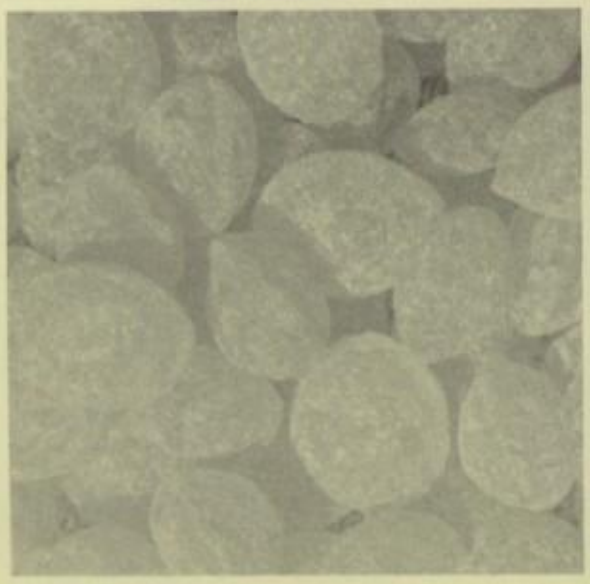
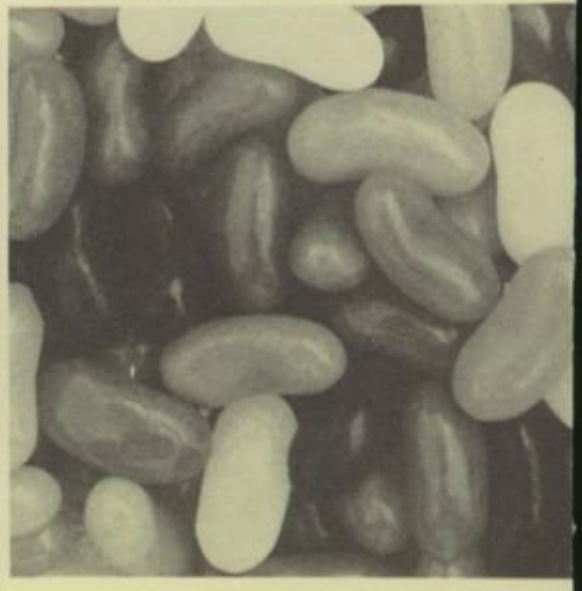
CLASS OF





Ranting and raving juniors Cindy Terrazas, Camille Garcia, and Grace De La Certa show that the class of 81' has spirit.

Classes

To Nick,
Well, we got through our first at schurr after all those years at Macy. I know we'll probably see each other next year, so I'll say I hope you have a great summer! Watch yourself, and do anything I wouldn't do!
Luv,
Monique Valdez

'81 'Has Come A Long Way'

Behind the engineering of officers Leland Wiesner (president), Steve Gomez (vice-president), and Carol Mochizuki (secretary), the Class of 1981 Cabinet vaulted through their all-important junior year.

Heading their year's agenda was the Junior/Senior Prom. Funding this endeavor proved to be the juniors' major objective for the year.

Torres Takes Bull by the Horn

Business as usual for the Class of '82 cabinet meant rolling in the dough. The energetic sophomores were propelled by two-time president Sergio Torres, vice-president Glenn Morimoto, and secretary Art Chavez through another prosperous year.

The sophomores sponsored a multitude of fund-raisers. Covering the full span of the school year, Class of '82-sponsored events included: car washes throughout the summer, the donkey basketball game in January, and their second annual Disneyland trip in March.

'83 Recovers From Late Start

Despite a late start, the Class of 1983 came on strong to complete their first year with flying colors.

The October election of the frosh officers gave the freshmen barely enough time to prepare for homecoming. The intrepid rookies did manage to organize a tortilla strips booth and to decorate "C" building.

randa, and secretary Chris Chavez, the diminutive freshmen accomplished giant things in December by co-sponsoring the canned food drive and decorating a Christmas tree in Montebello Park. Besides raising frosh spirit, the '83'ers also filled their coffer by peddling candies and T-shirts.

"The cabinet was spirited and participated actively," commented advisor Glenn Sewell. "Harold (Duffy) ran the meetings fairly well." Also lending guidance was Steve Terry.

What traits are most noticeable in Schurr students?

"Friendliness—the kids are so friendly. The majority are concerned about their education and want to do well."

Shirley Foster

"I think one important characteristic of Schurr High students is that they get along so well with each other."

James S. Pike

"I have noted that most of the students at Schurr High School take their education quite seriously."

Tom Sciandra

"Students from other schools are impressed by the class our students and athletes exhibit. These traits indicate the pride our student body has in the school."

'BOB: THE SPACE-CATS & TOMMY'S ANGELS (AND ENGINEERS YOU ARE) AIN'T NO STOPPIN' US NOW... WE'RE ON THE MONEY! IT TOOK US FOUR WONDERFUL YEARS TO BUY OUR STAIRWAY TO HEAVEN, AND IT MAY SEEM LIKE OUR TIME TOGETHER IS COMING TO AN END, BUT WE WON'T JUST BEGUN... MONEY CAN'T BUY EVERYTHING, IT'S TRUE ... BUT WHAT IT CAN'T BUY WE HAD IN THE PARKWAY, TRACK 1980. TICKLE PINK, I LOVE MIKE CLIGHT - 'BOBS WORLD' - ROCKY-1980, OFF THE WALL, THE RAQ + ERNIE, AND ALL THE FOXES! PARKWAY 1980. SUE + JOE, JO + IS, PLATOS, YOU (SUZ & BEAF) THANX TO MOM & DAD FOR HAVING US. IT WAS GREAT HAVING LAUGHS, GOOD TIMES, TEARS, AND DREAMS WITH SCHURR + ALL THE PSYCHO'S IN IT... OUR ROADS WILL TRAVEL SEPARATE WAYS, OUR PATHS MAY NEVER CROSS, BUT WE CAN NEVER FORGET WHAT WE HAD, BECAUSE THE MEMORIES LIVE ON ♡ GOD BLESS YOU, LOVE, KELLY & CINDY (NAMES) HOME SWEET HOME

CHERYL - WITHOUT YOU FOR THE PAST YEAR + I DON'T KNOW WHAT I WOULD'VE DONE. YOU'RE VERY PRECIOUS TO ME. I HOPE YOU WILL ALWAYS BE MINE... LET'S SHARE A FUTURE TOGETHER.

LOVE,
GARY CLASS OF '80

NAT & TINA ~ WHEW! WE MADE IT. I OWE BOTH OF YOU A LOT OF FAVORS. OUR HIGH SCHOOL DAYS ARE OVER, BUT I KNOW OUR FRIENDSHIP WILL LAST FOREVER. I CAN NEVER THANK YOU ENOUGH. DALE & WAYNE ~ YOU CRAZY GUYS! THANKS FOR ALL THOSE WILD TIMES. KEEP IN TOUCH AND DON'T GET TOO RADICAL. CLOSE FRIENDS, GARY

NAT & TINA - YOU TWO ARE THE BEST FRIENDS ANYBODY COULD EVER HAVE. THANKS FOR SHARING ALL THE FUN TIMES & SAD TIMES - WE HAVE A LOT OF GOOD MEMORIES - AND REMEMBER, WE PROMISED EACH OTHER TO REMAIN FRIENDS FOREVER. DOREEN, VICK, LYNN, CHAR, PAM & SUZANNE - WE'VE KNOWN EACH OTHER SO LONG AND WE'VE HAD A LOT OF GOOD TIMES. THANKS FOR BEING A PART OF MY MEMORIES. LET'S ALWAYS KEEP IN TOUCH AND KEEP "THE GROUP" ALIVE. JON, STEVE, DENIS, ALAN, MOTTS, WAYNE K., CRAIG, JAMES, FRED, ERNIE & DALE - YOU GUYS BETTER KEEP IN TOUCH BECAUSE I WANT OUR FRIENDSHIPS TO LAST. TAKE CARE ALWAYS LOVE CHERYL

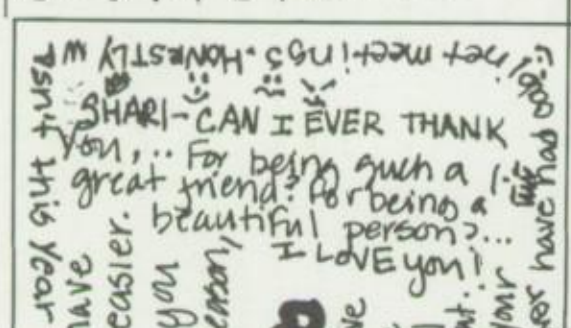
GARY - YOU'RE A VERY SPECIAL PERSON IN MY LIFE. YOU MEAN SO MUCH TO ME! WE'VE SHARED SO MANY WONDERFUL TIMES TOGETHER. THOSE TIMES WILL REMAIN WITH ME FOREVER. THERE WERE GOOD TIMES AND ROUGH TIMES AND WE'VE MADE IT THROUGH THEM ALL. LET'S KEEP IT THAT WAY, ALWAYS, K?

LOVE ALWAYS,
CHERYL



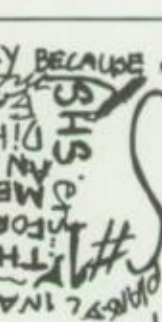
SHARI - CAN I EVER THANK YOU ENOUGH... FOR BEING SUCH A GREAT FRIEND? FOR BEING A BEAUTIFUL PERSON? I LOVE YOU!

Joe - Where would I have been w/out you? You made so much more happen. I'll always thank you for that. I'll always remember all your friendship also, the rides home ... etc... Floats, Floats

RAT - I owe you a lot. You've showed me how great a friend you are. I'll always treasure our friendship. Thanx for my first kiss ... is it still good?

Steve - I THINK I LOVE YOU. WHAT CAN I SAY?

MICHELLE - WITHOUT YOU I'M NO ONE



NO YOUR CLUBHOUSE, WE WOULD

Make the growing up a lot easier. I'll always remember you during the Christmas season, guess who?

Describe the typical Schurr student of today.

"Boys wear Levis, Nikes, T-shirt, and a down jacket or vest. Girls wear Jourdache jeans or a velour top."

Ann Stadler

(1) Bearing down, David Guevara tears through the final leg, two strides ahead of teammate Angel Muro (2) Maintaining a constant state of attention, Shawna Chow and Angel Go toil through another Clark Barrett lecture (3) Senior pep band members Laurie Baefsky and Robert Narumi sport humorous grins before embarking on the Disneyland excursion (4) Rolicking with laughter, Monica Arias thoroughly appreciates June Venegas' lunchtime humor (5) Observant Irene Vargas discovers the correct margins for business letter through a classmate's expertise

"well-adjusted, crew cut (sometimes), and smart (sometimes)"

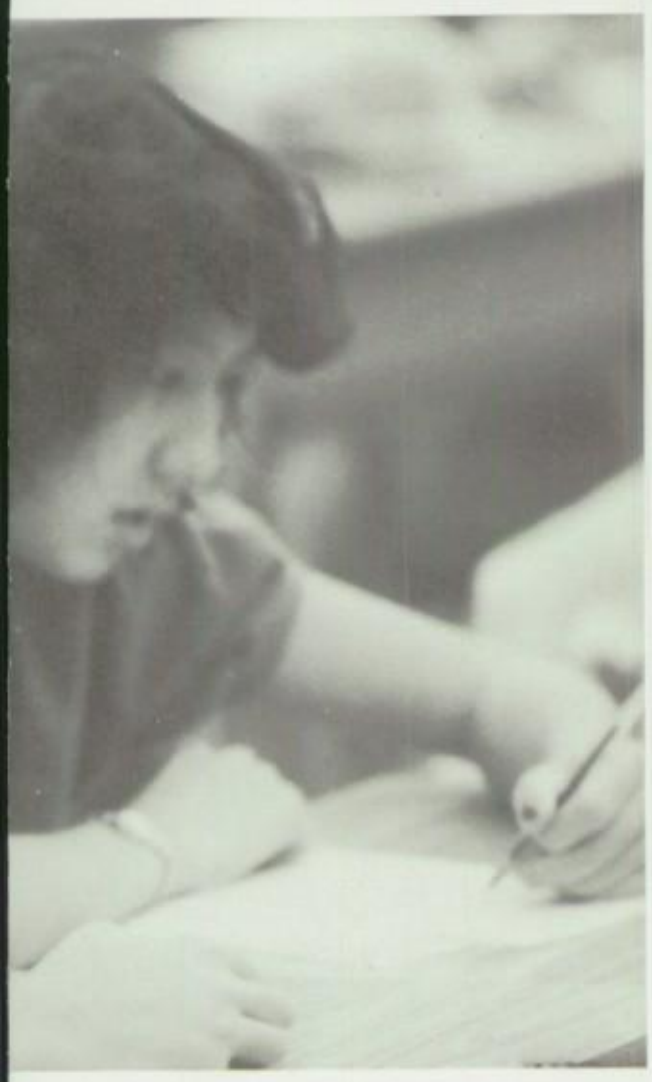
Luis Valencia

"semi-studious, stud, even CRAZY!"

Marcello Ziperovitch

"well-rounded individuals . . . with most liking music, from DEVO to disco"

Mark Mercado



What situation comedy best describes Schurr?

" 'Mork & Mindy' because the rock group is usually 'spaced out' and the studious people are usually trying to help".

Sandra Gonzales

" 'M.A.S.H.' because the letters stand for 'mighty, awesome, Schurr High".

Clark Katayama

" 'Welcome Back Kotter'—it best describes Humanities"

Lisa Vartanian

" 'M.A.S.H.' because of the controlled chaos of getting ahead"

Melvin Ligh

" 'Soap' because when you think everything is straightened out, someone goofs and things become chaotic. It never fails! It's great!"

Leticia Nieves

" 'Get Smart' because everybody is trying to 'get smart!' But look at Maxwell Smart!"

Roman Padilla

(1) While practicing for the upcoming spring concert, Veronica Bojoquez immerses herself in her rendition of Richard Wagner's "Lohengrin" (2) Perplexing World War I study questions leave inquisitive Elaine Gomez seeking answers from Lee Moore (3) Taking down the number of pages to be read from Julius Caesar Clemie Hanke's deskmate, Anita Hernandez, looks forward to a night of the Shakespearean tragedy (4) Finding a dismount from the uneven bars harder than she thought, Sandy Gomez tries to envision an escape from her predicament (5) Remorseful after the season-ending loss to Royal Oak, Hector Gonzalez sheds a bitter tear

In what category is Schurr the best?

"Sports—we conquer all!"
Denis Katayama

". . . provides the best lunches"
Gizatta Law

"giving referrals and detention to students
Ray Moya

"It's the cleanest and best looking of all."
Darlene Suazo

"Academics—the statistics show that more than half of the students at Schurr go to college."
Charlie Cajumban

Special People Make Spectrum Special

That "It Takes All Kinds" was more than evident in the production of Spectrum '80. From our publisher to the numerous Spartans who answered our survey questions; people made the book a reality.

Special people giving special efforts made the book 'special' and I would like to thank the following people for their invaluable assistance; our agent Konnie Krislock, our publisher Herff Jones Inc., and the fabulous trio of Spencer Pendergrass, Jill Guiver, and Dan Cabe of Senior Portraits Inc. And a special thanks to Marvin Inouye and the photo lab shutterbugs.

To Ms. Joy Cimarusti, all of my gratitude for making this year a whole lot easier.

What can I say about the staff? They were the 'life' of the book. Thank you Lynne "BEE" for supporting me when I was falling an for spreading your own special honey around the staff room and throughout the year. Thank you "all-nighter" Louis, "pito" David, "brat" Shelly, and "chee-to" Joon Thank you Martin for supplying the food for our all-nighters. My gratitude to the "goons" Lilia, Yvonne, Cathy, Elaine, Cindy, Sandy, Patricia, & Loretta. And thanks to "queen goon" Darlene and "baby goon" Christine. Last but not least, a special thanks to my lil' sis JoAnn who had to endure my bitching both at home and at school.

To Nick,
a really nice guy
I met this year in choir. At the beginning of the year you really weren't very nice but you changed fast.
I hope to stay as nice as you are forever.
Hope to see you next year and have a nice summer.

To Nick
a very nice
guy. I met you this year in choir. I hope you will stay as you are and not change
into a stuck up. Will see you next year and have a great summer.

Yours truly
Best Wishes
Always Friend
